

POSITION OVERVIEW

Installation Engineer (Permanent)

Pro-Align Ltd started in 1991 offering a high quality four-wheel alignment service for cars. One year after this we were granted distribution rights for the sale and service of wheel alignment equipment nationally. As the sales of wheel alignment equipment and wheel service equipment increased further we stopped the retail alignment and have subsequently focused fully on equipment sales and service. 2006 saw the move to new purpose built offices in Greens Norton near Towcester, this facility is fully in keeping with our position as one of the leaders in the supply of equipment across a diverse range of customers from franchise dealers/tyre shops/ general repair workshops/Body shops and car manufactures.

The position would suit an individual with good communication skills coupled with some mechanical, electrical and PC knowledge. The job is varied and covers involvement in the following areas.

- Delivery and installation of equipment to site
- Assembly of new equipment
- Training of customers on new equipment
- Carrying out calibrations/upgrades on equipment when required
- Other duties associated with a busy Aftersales / Sales Department

Naturally some of these duties would involve working with other team members. A standard week is 40hrs with early starts, late finishes and overnight stays as required.

A proven driving record is required.

Holidays are 23 days in a full year plus recognised statutory holidays (some days to be deducted for the Christmas period).

Although advantageous, no product knowledge or previous wheel alignment experience is needed as full training will be given in all aspects of the position.
